

Graduate Certificate in Out-of-School Time Education

Center for Afterschool Education at Foundations and Arcadia University

Program Overview

One three-day institute, three online courses, one project at your site. The 15-credit Graduate Certificate in Out-of-School Time Education equips leaders in out-of-school time field with skills and knowledge to develop and manage programming that support the academic, social, and emotional needs of all children and youth. This unique program features online courses inclusive of school and out-of-school time educators—facilitating stronger links for whole-day learning—and online support from the Center for Afterschool Education and the wider out-of-school time community to put theory into action.
